*This document briefly explains the character relationships in the Gotham TV show. It covers all five seasons of the show, including protagonists, villains & bad guys, and side roles.

*There maybe some confusion in the ontology & document when you see contradictory relationship, examples include by not limited to: kill vs be killed, ex-lovers turn into killer, friends become foes, killed and then revived, etc. This is because different characters have complicated relationships, and they may shift on different timeline.

I've seen the TV show myself, but the following relationships and explanations are not subject to personal opinions. Many definitions are taken from Gotham Fandom wiki site:
